OLD HUGHES ALLIANCE AGAIN BECOMES ACTIVE.

Travis H. Whitney, Public Service Commissioner, after congratulating the Justice, announced the reorganization of the Hughes Alliance. This body, composed of Democrats, Republicans and non-partisans, labored throughout the State for Mr. Hughes during his second campaign for Governor.

Whitney said that a headquarters for the Alliance would be established at the Astor and that within a day or two a meeting would be held to revivify the organization and if possible to make it a National rather than a State body.

Henry W. Taft, a brother of former President Taft, was an early caller. He offered his congratulations and support and said he was the bearer of his brother's best wishes and stated that William Howard Taft will call shortly to offer his support to the candidate. Other callers were William R. Wilcox, the first chairman of the Public Service Commission; William McCarrall, a former Public Service Commissioner; Major Fred M. Crockett, who was military secretary under Governor Hughes; John Lord O'Brien of Buffalo and Joseph O. Hammett, Chief of the Bureau of Fire Prevention.

PLEASED WITH REORGANIZATION OF THE ALLIANCE.

Justice Hughes was greatly pleased to know that the Hughes Alliance is to be reorganized as a fighting machine for the campaign. Mr. Whitney told the candidate that he had received thousands of telegrams from all parts of the State, from former Hughes supporters who are eager to lend their aid in the Presidential fight.

During his stay in New York it is rumored about that Mr. Hughes may have a conference with Col. Roosevelt. This was neither affirmed nor denied by Secretary Gretna this morning. Mr. Hughes is anxious to be back in Washington on Wednesday that he may take part in the Preparedness parade, but from present indications it would appear that he will be unable to leave until the latter part of the week.

Four candidates for the nation's highest honors have made such a silent entry into New York as was the entrance of Mr. Hughes. On the journey from the capital he was recognized by but one man. This was Mr. Wilcox, who had boarded the train at Philadelphia. He had left Washington on the 12.25 Baltimore & Ohio train, accompanied by his secretary.

The Progressive ranks were well represented among those who congratulated Mr. Hughes and many of them were outspoken in favor of his candidacy. Among the Progressives was Supreme Court Justice Alfred R. Page, who was one of the pilgrims who journeyed to Oyster Bay two weeks ago to inform the Colonel that he was the man of destiny. Justice Page assured Mr. Hughes that he was now for Hughes and Hughes alone.

Frank A. Munsey, who was one of the doughbag providers in the former Progressive campaign, is not back in telling the candidate that he believed thousands of Progressives would see the light and get into line. Former Attorney General George L. Wickersham called to congratulate

NO BLARE OF BANDS AS TAMMANY MEN GO TO CONVENTION

All Is Quiet as Five Hundred Start for St. Louis in Three Special Trains.

PLENTY OF GOOD CHEER

Quiet Enthusiasm and Lots to Eat and Drink Mark Departure, However.

About five hundred Tammany delegates and their followers, who are to attend the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis, which opens Wednesday, quietly slipped out of town to-day. There were no bands at the stations, no waving of flags or cheers as they departed—nothing, in fact, but orderly and serious groups bent upon a serious mission.

The first train to leave got away from the Erie station at 9.50 with about 125 delegates, who travelled under the protecting wing of "Big Tom" Foley.

Two other trains left the Pennsylvania station shortly after 10 o'clock. There were 150 delegates and their friends, who travelled under the direction of Charles W. Cullen, leader of the Fifth District. About the same time another delegation under Leader John F. McConey came over from Brooklyn. There were about 125 in the Kings County representation.

District Attorney Swann went to the station to see the boys off.

Although the beginning of the big Tammany pilgrimage was sedate enough, it is not the intention of the delegates to die of thirst or fasting during the long ride. Enough good things in the eating and drinking line to last a month were stowed in the seven car sections long before the delegates arrived.

Most of the delegates who travelled in the special in charge of Leader Cullen were from the districts in the neighborhood of the station, such as the Thirtieth, Fifth, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Fourteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-second.

Leader Cullen explained the Tammany didn't need flags or music to cheer them on their way.

"Why should we require artificial stimulation, when the sun is shining?" declared Cullen. "It didn't shine during the entire Republican and Progressive performances, did it?"

Michael Skelly, who comes from John F. Curry's district, was asked why he didn't look enthusiastic about the trip.

"I've been doing this convention stunt for thirty-two years," replied Skelly, "and I want to tell you it gets to be like a dope habit. I'm just going because I can't stay away. But what's the use of getting hysterical?"

Among those who boarded trains at the Pennsylvania station were Congressman John F. Carey, Senator James A. Foley and John R. Voorhees.

"Just tell the stay-at-homes," said Senator Foley, "that we have enough good things on board to cheer us up, if the sun gets lost again."

In "Big Tom" Foley's contingent there were eight Pullmans, a diner and a baggage car. The last mentioned was a veritable cold storehouse of things needed by delegates on a long journey.

In Foley's party were Dan Finn, leader of the First Assembly District; Congressman Riordan, Assemblyman Hamill and Ryan and Alderman Stapleton.

Harry Perry, leader of the Second District, was accompanied by Assemblyman Barra, Albert Marcellus, President of the Timothy D. Sullivan Association; Paul Vaccarelli and Assistant District Attorney Cardone.

The Fourth District party included Leader John F. Ahearn, Congressman Goldfogle, Assemblyman Schieman and former State Fire Marshal Tom Ahearn.

David Lazarus, leader of the Sixth, was accompanied by Morris Cukor, Mike Morrissey and Assemblyman Stern. Leader Frank Goodwin, Frank L. Dowling, President of the Board of Aldermen; Assemblyman McElligott and Assistant District Attorney Burke made up the party from the Seventh District. Max Levine, leader of the Eighth, was accompanied by Senator Christy Sullivan and Alderman Tolk.

The Ninth and Eleventh districts had in the delegations Leaders William Dalton and Thomas J. McManus and Assemblyman Donohue, Owen Bohan and Senator Royle.

The Tenth District party was headed by Leader Goldenkrantz. With him were Assistant District Attorneys Elder and Kastenbaum.

Ross Williams, leader of the Seventeenth, had in his party Assemblyman Gilroy and Mark Eisner, Collector of Internal Revenue.
